

6 - Tremeirchion to St Asaph 3.5 miles/5.6 kms

(During wet periods a short section of this route can be extremely muddy see alternative below.)

Follow the road downhill from the Church and take the right fork. Ignore the first road to the left (signed Trefnant) and take the next lane on the left (signed Sychdyn Farm). When the lane bears right by the first house (Ty Moel) take the waymarked stile left into the field and follow stiles and yellow arrows, crossing five fields (Keep the pylons about 200 yards to your left). After the 4th stile you go through a gate.

Alternative avoiding muddy field

OS Explorer 264

Follow the Clwydian Way, once more, to the disused railway track and turn right. The path leaves the track to pass the school to reach the main road. Turn right to the Cathedral.
